CAITLIN CLARK
SCORES BIG AGAIN

By Ryan Wright

Even though fans were disappointed Caitlin Clark only played 13 games before ending her sophomore season in the WNBA due to a right groin injury, enthusiasm for her cards among collectors has not diminished. During a Goldin Auctions event on Sept. 13, Clark scored big for one lucky seller, netting $341,600 after 25 bids with a buyer's premium.

As part of their 2024-25 Instant Rookie Royalty WNBA Kaboom Line, Panini released three variants on their Clark cards: (base) Kaboom #1, Kaboom Gold #1, and Kaboom Green #1. The scarcity of Gold holds true here, just 10 printed. But Panini produced an all-time grail card with just one manufactured in Green… a beautiful BGS 10 Pristine.

2025-26 MEN'S NCAA BASKETBALL–
WHICH PLAYERS TO CHASE

BY RYAN WRIGHT

THE 2024-25 MEN'S COLLEGE BASKETBALL SEASON WAS AMAZING. The players and coaches thrilled fans all the way until the clock hit triple-zeroes in the NCAA Tournament Finals. Looking at the returning players and talent coming in, the 2025-26 schedule is sure to keep us out of our seats for another 30-plus games.

For collectors enjoying the action, the question each season, which players do we chase?

RETURNING TALENT

PG BRADEN SMITH - PURDUE BOILERMAKERS

The Boilermakers closed out last season 24-12, 13-7 Big Ten. Big regular season wins were posted against Alabama, Ole Miss, Oregon, and Michigan with a two-game run into the tournament. The top returning player for Purdue, guard Braden Smith. Smith nearly averaged a double-double as a junior with 15.8 points and 8.7 assists per game.

PF YAXEL LENDEBORG - MICHIGAN WOLVERINES

If you haven't seen Lendeborg (6-9, 240) play, he is sneaky good. A double-double machine with UAB as a freshman (13.8, 10.6) and as a sophomore (17.7, 11.4). Surrounded by good talent in Ann Arbor, and on a bigger stage, Lendeborg could play his way into a Lottery Pick this season.

PLAYERS TO WATCH

- SF Joseph Tugler – Houston Cougars – defensive specialist
- PG Boogie Fland – Florida Gators – transfer from Arkansas, 13.5 ppg last season
- SG Solo Ball – UConn Huskies – 14.4 ppg as a sophomore, bigger year ahead
- PF Zuby Ejiofor – St. John's Red Storm – big body that likes to bang, 14.7 and 8.1 rppg
- SF Richie Saunders – BYU Cougars – 16.5 ppg, shot 43.2 percent on 3s
- SG Ryan Conwell – Louisville Cardinals – Consistent scorer at Xavier, 16.5 ppg
- SG Otega Oweh – Kentucky Wildcats – Strong sophomore (11.4) and junior seasons (16.2). A scorer more than a pure shooter. If that 3-point shot develops, Oweh will raise his draft stock.
- PF/C Malique Ewin – Arkansas Razorbacks – Breakout year as a sophomore (14.2, 7.6) with FSU.

TOP INCOMING FRESHMEN TALENT

PG/SG DARRYN PETERSON - KANSAS

247Sports listed 15 incoming freshmen as five-star talents, Peterson (6-5, 195) was atop the heap. A combo guard, Peterson gets it done on both ends of the court. Peterson earned Naismith Trophy High School Player of the Year and McDonald's All-American honors after averaging 30.4 points, 7.2 rebounds, 7.4 assists and 2.2 steals per game in 2024-25 with Prolific Prep (Napa, Cali.). The one knock that needs to improve, 3-point accuracy.

Darryn Peterson

AJ Dybantsa

SF AJ DYBANTSA - BYU

After hooping it up with Utah Prep (Hurricane, Utah) in high school, Dybantsa (6-9, 210) decided to stay in-state for college signing with BYU. In some circles, Dybantsa was viewed as the top player in last year's class. Against international competition, Dybantsa averaged 14.3 points, 4.1 rebounds, 2.3 assists and 1.1 steals per game for Team USA in the FIBA U19 World Cup. MVP and gold medal honors were captured by the five-star. On offense, anything inside the arc is within Dybantsa's wheelhouse. Active on defense with a high motor.

Get used to hearing it in every broadcast, Cameron Boozer is the son of Carlos Boozer, and brother to SG Cayden until ad nauseam. Because of the rugged play in the paint, father and son will draw comparisons for years to come. Following in dad's footsteps, Cameron will hoop it up for the Blue Devils in college with Cayden. Well-schooled, Cameron does everything at a high level on both ends of the court. Questions about his listed 6-9 height aside, he is a banger inside. A challenge as he rises in levels of competition, playing higher up on the rim and using more than brawn in the paint.

During the 2024 FIBA U18 AmeriCup, Acuff earned MVP honors leading his team to gold by averaging 17.8 points, 4.7 rebounds, and 4.0 assists per game. With Boogie Fland at Florida, the Arkansas offense will be Acuff's to run. If the 2026 NBA Draft is Acuff's goal, expect a big year from the freshman talent. Averaged 19 points and 10 rebounds per game as a senior and 19.3 points, 7.8 rebounds, and 4.0 blocks as a junior. Ament was listed as the second-best player in the nation by On3.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE BASKETBALL SEASON 2025-26

BY RYAN WRIGHT

Sarah Strong

ENTHUSIASM AMONG COLLECTORS SEEMS TO BE AT AN ALL-TIME HIGH FOR WOMEN'S COLLEGE BASKETBALL WITH CAPACITY FOR CONTINUED GROWTH THROUGHOUT THE 2025-26 SEASON. There are storylines that crisscross the country and players that will light up the scoreboard drawing national attention.

Get the popcorn ready, this season will be action packed.

LET'S DO IT AGAIN!

After collecting 11 national championships from 1995 to 2016 with UConn, questions were raised about Geno Auriemma's future in the game. But just as doubters were at a fever pitch, Auriemma tacked on No. 12 in Tampa (Fla.) led by eventual No. 1 overall 2025 WNBA Draft pick Paige Bueckers and company.

UConn has firepower returning in Sarah Strong and Azzi Fudd to bring another title to Connecticut this season. As a freshman, Strong earned second-team All-American honors posting 16.4 points and 8.9 rebounds per game. Huskies' shooting guard, Fudd, earned Most Outstanding Player in the 2025 tourney and was first-team All-Big East in 2025 after putting up 13.6 ppg while shooting at a 43.6 percent clip from 3-point land.

Teams expected to challenge UConn's title defense: South Carolina, LSU, Texas, UCLA, Oklahoma, Duke, Tennessee, and Maryland.

TOP RETURNING PLAYER

The good and the bad – hands down, the top returning player with the biggest storyline in the game is USC point guard JuJu Watkins. Watkins was electric throughout her sophomore season averaging 23.9 points per game. Just about every postseason honor possible came Watkins way – AP Player of the Year, Naismith College POY, Big Ten POY, Big Ten Female Athlete of the Year, John R. Wooden Award, and her second consensus first-team All-American selection.

The bad, in the second round of the NCAA Tournament against Mississippi State, Watkins tore the ACL in her right knee. At the time of this writing, there was not a timetable for her return. If Watkins is at full speed at any point in the season, she will rightfully draw the biggest spotlight with the best chance to go first overall in the 2026 WNBA Draft.

VYING FOR NO. 1 OVERALL

Should Watkins decide to stay with the Trojans for another season, another Angeleno could be first off the board – UCLA center Lauren Betts (6-7). There's no one like her in the game; a double-double machine (20.2 ppg and 9.5 rpg) and she was named the Naismith Defensive Player of the Year in 2025.

"HOOK" ANOTHER ALL-AMERICAN HONOR ON THAT RESUME

Over the last two seasons, Madison Booker has been consistently good – All-American good. As a freshman, Booker earned second-team AP All-American honors and bumped up to first team in '24-25. Booker made big strides in her overall game a year ago, most notably with her 3-point shooting, up to 40.3 percent, and her rebounds per game, up to 6.6. Her scoring stayed oddly identical, 16.5 as a freshman and 16.3 as a sophomore.

HANNAH'S WORLD

One to rule them all… in the ACC with sights set on more. If you haven't watched Hannah Hidalgo execute Notre Dame's offense, please make some time this winter and again in the spring. Hidalgo is a two-time AP first-team All-American (2024-25), two-time ACC Defensive Player of the Year, and was named ACC Player of the Year in 2025.

As a sophomore, Hidalgo improved her scoring average (23.8), 3-point shooting percentage (.400), and free throw percentage (.856). The Irish went 28-6, 16-2 ACC, last season with Hidalgo controlling the game.

Notre Dame bounced Michigan in the second round of the tournament and then was exited by TCU in the Sweet 16. Back for her junior campaign, she can carry the weight of big expectations for herself and Notre Dame in 2025-26.

THE NEXT WAVE

With every collegiate sport, each year there's a new group of players ready to make their mark on the game. As cards become available for the incoming freshmen, join the chase!

1996-97 INTERNATIONAL JAPANESE JORDAN GREATER HEIGHTS CARDS

BY RYAN WRIGHT

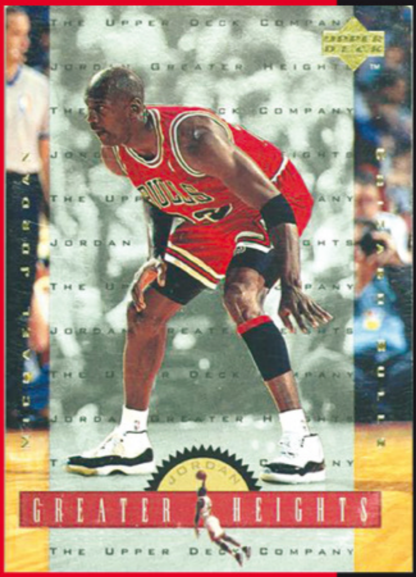
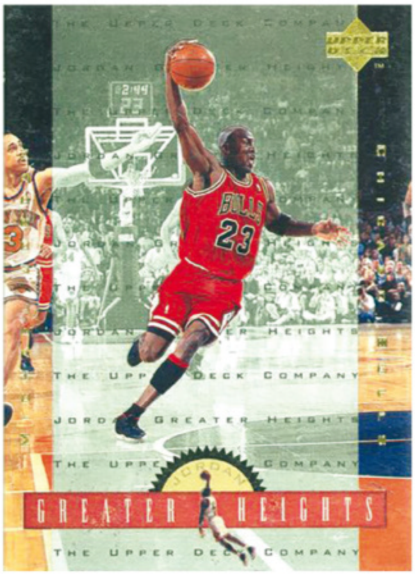
Front and Back: 1996-97 Upper Deck International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights #GH9 Michael Jordan/Excitement



1996-97 Upper Deck International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights #GH4 Michael Jordan/Defending

Among modern era players, there is no one that attracts a crowd in the hobby, regardless of the sport, like Michael Jordan. There are few iconic rookie cards outside the vintage timeline chased by all, but nothing comes close to "His Airness" 1986-87 Fleer #57. While there is no shortage of Jordan cards on the market, there are some that have seemingly been forgotten or have never been seen like the 1996-97 Upper Deck International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights line.

Beyond being a six-time NBA champion, six-time NBA Finals MVP, and five-time NBA Most Valuable Player, Jordan is so great he defies Junk Wax Era obstacles. There are 5,044 cards from 1994-95 to 1999-00 alone featuring MJ but that has not diminished his value on the secondary market.



1996-97 Upper Deck International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights #GH5 Michael Jordan/Breakaways

Scrolling down the list of manufactures from Upper Deck, Topps, Hoops, Fleer, and the like, very few MJ cards dip down to the $1 mark raw. Most still range from $2 to $6 raw with the jump to $25 on cards like 1996-97 Collector's Choice Crash the Game Redemption cards and to $100 or more on 1996 Topps Stars Finest Atomic Reactors.

In that mid-tier of raw value pricing are the Upper Deck Greater Heights MJ cards.

Upper Deck released a 10-card set of Jordan cards that were inserted in packs at a rate of 1 in 66, also noted at 1:71. The 10 cards, numbered GH1-GH-10, feature MJ Dunking, Shooting, Rebounding, Defending, Breakaways, Putbacks, Passing, Mid-Air-Magic, Excitement, and The Future. The set of 10 can also be found in Greater Heights Jumbos.

Raw values of the Greater Heights base standard card size range from $8 to $20 with the Jumbos dropping to $1.50 to $4 per the Beckett Price Guide.

Capitalizing on the growing global popularity of the game after the Dream Team's gold medal run in Barcelona in 1992 and with Japanese markets now carrying NBA games, to up the chase, there is a Japanese version – International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights.

Sidenote: the card label tells the collector just how powerful MJ is in the hobby, his first name is dropped using just his last name – Jordan. Furthering the point – on an international card.

What makes the Jordan Greater Heights International Japanese version exciting for collectors, it has an English language front with Japanese writing card back; not commonplace in 1996. Details on the release are murky at best, from rate statistics to print run, all remains unknown.

Another factoid that cannot be passed on; the cards are extremely rare in the US. Online searches do not show the card for sale in the US, but it can be found in Australia. The asking price for a #GH9 International Japanese Jordan Greater

Base: 1996-97 Upper Deck Jordan Greater Heights #GH10 Michael Jordan/The Future

Heights raw from an Australian seller on eBay is approximately $50 USD plus international shipping. Even a quick scan on Japanese to English sales platform Jauce turned up nothing.

Pop reports from BGS and PSA can help paint the scarcity picture. In total, 29 International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights cards have been graded between BGS and PSA.

Very few Greater Heights cards have been sold via auctions to help set pricing should one become available in the US: #GH4 PSA 7 sold for $114.50 on Sept. 25, 2024, and a #GH5 PSA 9 was sold on March 23, 2021, for $52. Imagine getting MJ's autograph on one of these babies!

As Upper Deck targeted the Japanese market with their Greater Heights line, the company also released cards and stickers in multiple languages including German, Italian, Spanish, and French among others – found in the Collector's Choice International line beginning in 1994-95 sets.

With the popularity explosion of basketball around the world, Upper Deck further sought to capitalize on the craze at the time releasing a 125-card Chinese Basketball Alliance set of the two-year-old league in 1995. That was UD's first release of a sports league outside of North America… and the international card collecting hobby continues to expand decades later with or without International Japanese Jordan Greater Heights cards in the US.

Fans and Collectors Geeked for Luka Dončić 2.0

By Ryan Wright

LAKERS

GETTY IMAGES

A star in the NBA from the moment he stepped foot on the court in 2018, the league, opposing teams, the Lakers organization, fans, and collectors alike are all hyped and/or curious about the new and improved Luka Dončić for the 2025-26 season. Singularly focused on proving his greatness to doubters, Dončić's pairing with LeBron James for a full season is a win-win for everyone.

From an individual perspective, beginning his eighth year in the association, there's not much else for Dončić to accomplish. After being picked third overall in the 2018 draft by the Atlanta Hawks, Dončić was traded for the rights to Trae Young and a future first round pick. Once in Dallas, Dončić flexed his Slovenian flare for the game earning Rookie of the Year honors.

Improvements were made in his offensive game during his second season starting a six-season trend of scoring 27.7 or more points per game. The 2023-24 campaign has been his best thus far finishing third in MVP voting after scoring at a clip of 33.9 per game.

Under Dončić's guidance, the Mavs made a push to the Western Conference Finals in '22 and bested the effort in 2023 with an NBA Finals berth.

Shockwaves were sent around the world when the Mavericks unexpectedly traded their All-Star shooting guard on Dec. 7, 2024, to the Los Angeles Lakers. A strained calf muscle slowed Dončić's production with the Lakers, seemingly keeping the team from finding a groove before the playoffs and leading to a first-round exit.

The offseason chatter has been about Luka Dončić's body transformation and renewed commitment to the game – a.k.a. "The Luka Dončić Revenge Tour."

By virtue of allowing the trade, commissioner Adam Silver and the league may have the most hyped season ahead since Michael Jordan returned in 1995-96 for his first full season after retiring in 1993.

As long as Dončić stays healthy, TV ratings are sure to rise along with card values in the hobby. Should Dončić, James, and the Lakers make a run to the NBA Finals through a brutally tough Western Conference, even the casual fan will want to see Dončić 2.0 and his quest for a ring.

Michael Redd: One of the NBA's Great Could Have Been Stories

Looking over Milwaukee Bucks statistics, just about every meaningful milestone is occupied by Giannis Antetokounmpo. Drilling down on all-time points scored within the franchise, a name pops up in a flash from the past – Michael Redd.

Redd was as talented as any on the offensive end, but just as things got going it all came to a repeated ACL/MCL end.

Even in Ohio State circles, Redd is not among the most prominent names on the court; Big Ten Freshman of the Year (1998) and first-team All-Big Ten (2000) with one Final Four appearance (1999). But once in the NBA, Redd's development took big strides capturing the game's attention for a brief period.

The best fortune tellers couldn't have predicted what was to come for Redd. An afterthought drafted in the second round by the Bucks in 2000, Redd found himself behind Ray Allen and Glenn Robinson toggling between shooting guard and small forward.

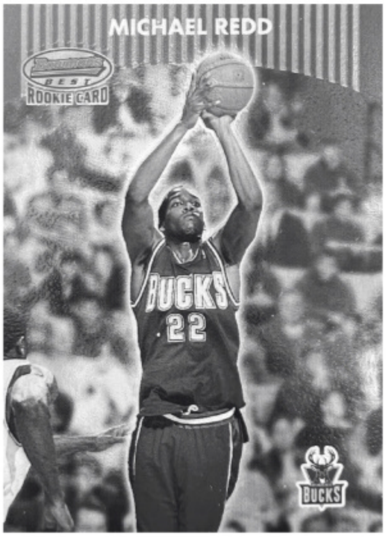
Redd hung on earning his worth as a practice player appearing in just six games as a rookie. Gaining game time was especially hard after the Bucks signed Allen to a six-year $70.9 million contract in 1999.

Playing time during the 2001-02 season increased, as did his scoring output averaging 11.4 per game. By the 2002-03 season, Redd was in consideration for Sixth Man of the Year honors producing 15.1 a game while shooting .438 from behind the arc. Redd's rise and Allen's reported strained relationship with head coach George Karl prompted a trade with Seattle. The path was cleared for Redd, and he took advantage of it.

The 2003-04 season saw Redd earn his first and only All-Star selection and he was named All-NBA third team. Scoring output increased by Redd from 21.7 to 23.0 the following season. Redd was a scoring machine in the '05-06 and '06-07 seasons, lighting up the board at a clip of 25.4 and 26.7 a night, respectively. In 2006, Redd set a then franchise record with 57 points in a game.

The tragic turn came 33 games into the 2008-09 season; at just 29 years old, Redd tore the ACL and MCL in his left knee. By January of 2010, Redd tore both ligaments again in the same knee. A comeback was attempted for the 2011-12 season signing a one-year contract with the Suns. Redd would play in 51 games with two starts seeing his scoring average fall to 8.2 ppg in his final NBA season.

With the Bucks, Redd played in 629 games, starting 429, averaging 19.0 ppg. He is sixth on the franchise all-time scoring list with 11,554 points, just 40 behind Sidney Moncrief and 456 behind Robinson. No telling where Redd would be among the Bucks' all-time greats if he had not been robbed of perhaps eight or more years due to injuries.



2000-01 Bowman's Best #133A Michael Redd RC
